The Université Catholique de Lille is France's largest private, not-for-profit university, with over 40,000 students and 5,000 staff members. "La Catho" is home to 5 faculties, 20 schools (including two triple-crown awarded business schools and industry-leading engineering schools), multiple institutes, and a renowned hospital group, and offers more than 320 distinct degree programs in several centres of excellence, including:

- > Law, Economics, Business, & Management
- > Innovation and Design Thinking
- > Science and Technologies
- > Health and Social Care
- > Arts, Humanities, Theology, Ethics, & Education

The Université Catholique de Lille has undergone profound changes over the past decade in order to become an internationally renowned "Third Place" for the reinvention of society and of a more sustainable, more ethical future, combining innovative research and pedagogy across its faculties, grandes écoles, and healthcare sector, along with varied ecosystems, demonstrator buildings, and experimental urban neighbourhoods. Our efforts and innovations in these areas will continue and indeed intensify over the coming years. In the meantime we are also focused on:

- offering students a true life experience: A global vision of the person demands that we enable students to engage in a full range of intellectual, physical, relational, and spiritual activities, not merely scientific and intellectual training.
- "taking care": The University is heavily invested in the idea of taking care of others – of the sick and elderly and of the most disadvantaged in society, both locally and internationally – and of the earth itself, through greater efforts at sustainability. We believe that "taking care" should in its broadest sense extend across all disciplines and all three University missions: training, research, and service to society.

Working together, combining our efforts, desires, ideas, commitments, and achievements, we will be able to make a visible, understandable, and meaningful contribution to a world in transition.

A strong commitment to transition, preparing the world of tomorrow

In 2022, the University reaffirmed its commitment to the climate through the #ClimateIsTime (#ClimatIlEstTemps) campaign and through numerous conferences, workshops, and other activities. The end of the year was marked by the very first “University Climate Convention,” which brought together the entire University community – students, faculty, staff, and local residents.

The commitment of the Université Catholique de Lille is shared across its faculties and schools, many of which offer specialized programs emphasizing sustainable development. Recent years have seen the emergence of additional spaces for education, research, and experimentation. New buildings have been designed and built in order to limit their carbon impact and demonstrate good practices. The campus now benefits from more than 2,000 m² of solar panels and 15 energy transition experimentation sites, as well as from strong student participation, including 40 student associations dedicated to the environment.

Alumni Corner

For over 20 years, the European Summer Program has been the catalyst of many students' international journeys. It has helped them become more empowered and active as today's global citizens. Here are just a few of those stories...

Biljana Belamarić Wilsey, PhD
The University of Memphis
Macedonia - ESP 2001

“ Being an exchange student changes you so much in ways that you won't notice at first. Looking back on the European Summer Program, it broadened my horizons and made me realize the things I usually took for granted, like time. On a deeper level, I think going through the program strengthened me and allowed me to relate more to people with different cultures and backgrounds. ”

Sam Goodwin
Niagara University New York
United States of America - ESP 2010

“ Studying in France amplified my desire to understand the world better. When I finished college, I worked and lived overseas for seven years in investor relations for a tech startup business in Singapore and Dubai. The European Summer Program was an experience that helped me cultivate this interest in foreign affairs. It taught me how to let expectations take a back seat and replace stereotypes with real experiences. These are the types of things that we learn when we go abroad and look for a deeper understanding of the world. ”

Apurva Rao
Christ University Bangalore
India - ESP 2014

“ The European Summer Program has influenced me a lot, especially in exploring a new and different country, particularly the education system. In a way, the courses during the program helped me become a better student during that time because I learned how to go beyond the lectures. I also understand how to accept and appreciate the diversity of people and defy the stereotypes we usually see online. These experiences made me go back to France for my graduate studies. ”

Maximiliano Azeves
Universidad Católica de Córdoba
Argentina – ESP 2022

“ The European Summer Program helped me to become more mature and to be able to think globally. It made me realize the importance of managing myself well independently and being more open and understanding of the culture and perspectives of people with varying backgrounds around me. ESP made us feel connected to friends from all over the world. ”

LILLE

a city of art, culture, and history

A RICH HISTORY AT THE CROSSROADS OF EUROPE

Founded in 1066 by the Count of Flanders, Lille – Rijsel in Flemish – became an important trading and stock market point on the route between the rich Flemish towns and the Champagne fairs. As evident from some of its architecture, Lille was successively Flemish, Burgundian, and Spanish before finally becoming French in 1667 under Louis XIV, whose military engineer, Vauban, built Lille's impressive Citadel.

Yet the city has never stopped reinventing itself through successive economic, social, and power shifts. Lille's strategic location and the area's rich resources have made it one of the most fought over regions in Europe, a history visible today particularly through the numerous memorials from the last two World Wars in the region, toured by national and international visitors each year.

BIG CITY ADVANTAGES WITH SMALL CITY ATMOSPHERE

Lille enjoys all of the conveniences of being at the centre of a cross-border urban zone with a population of over 2 million, yet remains a "human-sized" university city with under 250,000 inhabitants, nearly half of whom are under age 30! Visitors can get around easily on foot or by bicycle. Public transport also offers the metro, the tramway, and many bus lines running frequently and late into the night, not to mention convenient train connections to the rest of the region and indeed Europe as a whole.

CITY OF ART & CULTURE

Since its designation as a European Capital of Culture in 2004, Lille Métropole has sponsored themed arts festivals with specific international connections every few years. The city was also designated a World Design Capital in 2020. But the arts are on display all year, every year. Lille boasts a significant number of theatres, concert venues, movie theatres, an opera house, and a national orchestra. Annual cultural events include, among many others, the Lille Piano(s) Festival, International Independent Movie Week, the international "Series Mania" festival, the Wazemmes accordion festival, and the "Fête de la Musique" (country-wide) on 21 June with free concerts all over town.

And then there are all the world-renowned museums in the region, which include the centrally-located Palais des Beaux-Arts (boasting the largest art collection in France outside of Paris), the Louvre-Lens (a nearby outpost of the Louvre itself), La Piscine in Roubaix (built in a former art deco swimming pool), and a modern art museum with a unique collection. Most museums are free or have reduced rates for students.
